EST. 2004

From a bare and windy 25 acre sheep paddock in 1998 to a colourful and productive 10-hectare garden and tranquil B&B in 2004.

Redbrow Garden built around a large open water section of Coots Creek, a tributary of Murrumbateman Creek, that flows parallel to Nanima Road.

The lakeside garden has been the venue for an increased number of functions and wedding ceremonies and has provided a spectacular display for each of those special occasions.

Summer heralds a leafy green oasis, the lake offering a cooling effect;
Autumn arrives with meant stunning colours from the Manchurian Pears, Liquid Ambers, Canadian Maples etc.;
Spring rewards with a profusion of daffodils, a magnificent Banksia rose and irises.

A romantic wedding scene featuring a couple in formal wear standing on a wooden dock by a pond. The man is in a black tuxedo with a pink bow tie, and the woman is in a long green dress. They are holding champagne glasses and about to kiss. A drone is flying in the sky above them. The background is a lush green garden with trees and a body of water reflecting the scene.

“We didn’t want the classic wedding, instead we wanted to hold a party for our friends and family outdoors in a beautiful garden setting somewhere where people could relax and enjoy the whole day together and then party on into the night at. ”
